KEIO MEDICAL SCIENCE PRIZE

Congratulatory message for Dr. Aviv Regev

I wish to congratulate Dr. Aviv Regev on winning the Keio Medical Science Prize, together with Dr. Miyawaki. What an honor for her to be the first Israeli to win this award! I would also like to thank the Keio Medical Science Prize for recognizing Dr. Regev and her research.

The complexity of life is veiled in a mystery and tireless human endeavors in science have unveiled some of it. But so much more is there to discover throughout the history of humanity. Dr. Regev's revolutionary analysis in single cell genomics and her central role in developing the international community Human Cell Atlas, among other contributions, will certainly deepen our understanding of many aspects of biology and medicine, leading humankind to better health and longevity.

It gives me great pleasure to wish Dr. Regev continued success on her important endeavors.
